FROM OUR RECTOR

Dear Parishioners,

This coming Friday, we celebrate the Feast of Jesus' Presentation at the temple 40 days after his birth. It places before our eyes a special moment in the life of the Holy Family: Mary and Joseph, in accordance with Mosaic law, took the tiny Jesus to the temple of Jerusalem to offer him to the Lord (Lk 2: 22). Simeon and Anna, inspired by God, recognized that Child as the long-awaited Messiah and prophesied about him.

A tradition that occurs on the Feast of the Presentation of Our Lord is the blessing of candles; hence, it is also called Candlemas. We will gather in the All Saints Chapel and bless the candles for use in the Cathedral for the following year. We will also be blessing candles for the faithful to take home with them, which can be lighted before a Holy Icon in times of serious sickness or the threat of a storm to implore Divine Protection, as the family is gathered in prayer.

Bringing her Son to Jerusalem, the Virgin Mother offered him to God as a true Lamb who takes away the sins of the world. She held him out to Simeon and Anna as the proclamation of redemption; she presented him to all as a light for a safe journey on the path of truth and love.

The words that came to the lips of the elderly Simeon: "My eyes have seen your salvation" (Lk 2: 30), are echoed in the heart of the prophetess Anna. These good and devout people, enveloped in Christ's light, were able to see in the Child Jesus "the consolation of Israel" (Lk 2: 25). Simeon was the bearer of an ancient hope and the Spirit of the Lord spoke to his heart. For this reason he could contemplate the One whom numerous prophets and kings had desired to see: Christ, a light of revelation for the Gentiles.

We are in the presence of this mystery, each time we gather for the celebration of the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. This same Christ who Mary and Joseph offered in the temple of the Lord is the Lamb of God who takes away the sins of the world, which we receive in the Holy Eucharist. On this feast day may we contemplate the great mystery of Jesus Christ, true God and true man who offers himself for us.

ARCHBISHOP'S COLUMN

Sent out on mission to proclaim Jesus

Spiritual multiplication requires us to take the occasions that God provides to share what Jesus has done in our lives

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

In Mass readings this week, we hear about how Solomon succeeded David as king of Israel.

It makes me think about a different kind of succession planning.

It used to be that parishes and schools would perpetuate themselves by the simple fact of birth. Physical multiplication was enough to keep us going and growing.

That's no longer the case. If we're going to grow now, we need to grow by spiritual multiplication. That's what our recent focus on evangelization has been about.

Questions naturally arise: What does evangelization mean? How do we grow by spiritual multiplication?

We need to keep exploring that from various angles. For now, let's focus on one aspect.

One of the keys to evangelization for us, in this moment in the history of the Archdiocese of St. Louis, is to shift from a focus on quantity to a focus on quality of interaction. What do I mean by that?

The readings this week give us a key insight. In simplest terms they encourage us, over and over, to "take the occasion."

For example, on Feb. 2 we celebrate the feast of the Presentation, when Jesus was presented in the temple as an infant. Simeon "took the occasion" to proclaim the truth about Jesus, letting people know that He was God's promised salvation. Anna "took the occasion" to proclaim the truth about this child "to all who were awaiting the redemption of Jerusalem" (Luke 2:38). Understand, this was not after Jesus had performed some mighty deed! It was before people had seen the works of God in Him. Realize, too, that the truth was not all sunshine and roses. Simeon also said that a sword would pierce Mary's heart and that Jesus would be a sign of contradiction.

Similarly, all week long, Jesus "takes the occasion"

ARCHBISHOP

SERVE THE LORD WITH GLADNESS

to make some truth about the Kingdom known. He heals the Gerasene demoniac, which proclaims Jesus' power over the enemy of humanity. He tells the woman with hemorrhages that her faith has made her well. He confronts the people in Nazareth with their lack of faith. At every turn we see Jesus taking the occasion to announce the Kingdom of God in some form or another.

Finally, we hear this week about how Jesus sent the apostles out on mission. You can bet that they "took the occasion" to announce the truth about Jesus and His Kingdom. They were engaged in spiritual multiplication.

Can we follow their lead?

Here's one further distinction that can help us: We don't have to make the occasion, we simply have to take the occasion. God the Father makes the occasions for us to proclaim who Jesus is and what He's done for us. Our job is to recognize and take the occasion as it's offered.

That's a key element of succession planning for our parishes and schools today. Jesus is sending us out on mission. It's a mission of spiritual multiplication. Spiritual multiplication requires us to take the occasion to proclaim the truth about Jesus. If we plant that seed, He'll make it grow. Quantity will follow quality.

The Gospel of the Lord

Then they came to Capernaum, and on the Sabbath Jesus entered the synagogue and taught. The people were astonished at his teaching, for he taught them as one having authority and not as the scribes. In their synagogue was a man with an unclean spirit; he cried out, “What have you to do with us Jesus of Nazareth? Have you come to destroy us? I know who you are—The Holy One of God!” Jesus rebuked him and said, “Quiet! Come out of him!” The unclean spirit convulsed him and with a loud cry came out of him. All were amazed and asked one another, “What is this? A new teaching with authority. He commands even the unclean spirits and they obey him.” His fame spread everywhere throughout the whole region of Galilee.

Mark 1:21-28

Jesus’ Power & Authority

Today’s reading from the Gospel of St. Mark is a continuation from last weekend’s reading. The disciples are traveling with Jesus and land in Capernaum, which is the center of Jesus’ Galilean ministry. While in Capernaum, the disciples have the privilege of witnessing Jesus’ power and authority, which provides a foundation for their following Him. Jesus reveals that his authority is so great that it surpasses even the Scribes who were thought of as the experts on the Law.

The exorcism account in today’s Gospel highlights the stark contrast between Jesus’ holiness and the spirit’s uncleanness or unholiness. In this instance, “holiness” is not a moral designation, such as given the Scribes and Elders, but rather a divine sacredness that is set apart both by and for God alone. The demon within the man recognizes Jesus’ holiness and becomes defensive in response. The demon even reveals special knowledge of Jesus, calling him “The Holy One of God.” and because of this, Jesus rebukes the unclean spirit. By the power of his voice, the power of his very word, Jesus drives the demon out of the man. That is the power and authority of Jesus. He reveals himself as the one true authority who has the power to teach and exorcise through his divinity. Through Jesus, God continues to communicate himself to his people by giving us the Word of God Incarnate.

Today’s Gospel reading is an open invitation for us to recognize Jesus’ power and authority. Jesus is the fullness of God’s message to us, we need to be attuned to how Jesus communicates himself to us on a daily basis. This can be seen through reading the bible, personal prayer, our words and actions towards others, and through the Sacraments. Jesus reveals himself most especially through the Eucharist.

Weekly Thoughts on Giving

"Brothers and sisters: I should like you to be free of anxieties." - 1 Corinthians 7:32

How much anxiety do we bring upon ourselves by constantly worrying about not having enough or attaining more things? God won't necessarily give you everything you want, but He will provide everything you need. Try this – use the word "pray" instead of the word "worry" in the future. Then spend your time praying instead of worrying.

What Catholics Believe

Join us at the Cathedral Basilica two Wednesdays a month, when Fr. Povis will present an in-depth theological reflection on the articles of the Apostles' Creed.

-6:30pm in Boland Hall

-50 minute presentation followed by social

-Feel free to bring food and drink

-Designed for adults, but all are welcome!
