FROM OUR RECTOR

Dear Parishioners,

After the solemn celebrations of Easter, we are still imbued with spiritual joy, as we carry in our hearts that Easter joy. My deep thanks to everyone who helped to make these liturgies so beautiful this past week. Most importantly I would like to extend a word of thanks to the staff of the Cathedral for their hard work and to the volunteers who helped in many ways. In addition, there are many others who gave so much of their time including our ushers, servers, Eucharistic ministers, and those who helped to clean our church, arrange flowers, and work with those in our RCIA program.

I want to offer a special word of recognition and thanks to the members of our Choirs and Sacred Music Program. The beautiful music that graced the Basilica lifted the minds and hearts of many into deeper participation in the Sacred Liturgy. They gave us their all on Holy Thursday with the Chrism Mass, Mass of the Lord's Supper, and Tenebrae. We welcomed parishioners and visitors to the Cathedral Basilica in record numbers. It was so wonderful to see the Cathedral full with people coming to worship together on Easter.

What the Gospel says to us today on the 2nd Sunday of Easter is very important: namely, that Jesus, in his two appearances to the Apostles gathered in the Upper Room, repeats several times the greeting: "Peace be with you." The traditional greeting used by people at the time of Jesus with which people would greet one another was shalom, peace. This greeting becomes something new: it becomes the gift of the peace that Jesus alone can give because it is the fruit of his radical victory over evil. The "peace" that Jesus gives to his friends is the fruit of the love of God which led him to die on the cross, to pour out all his blood, as a meek and humble lamb "full of grace and truth."

For this reason Saint John Paul II chose to call this Sunday after Easter, Divine Mercy, with a very specific image: that of Jesus' pierced side from which blood and water flowed, according to the account of an eyewitness, the Apostle John. However Jesus is now risen and the paschal Sacraments of Baptism and the Eucharist flow from him, who is alive: those who receive them with faith receive the gift of eternal life.

ARCHBISHOP'S COLUMN

Mary's 'yes' at the Annunciation shows is the path to heaven

Mary models for us how to respond to the gift Jesus offers in the Eucharist

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

Here's an unusual thing: We celebrate the feast of the Annunciation on April 8 this year. (Its usual date, March 25, fell during Holy Week, so it got moved.)

I'd like to reflect on two elements of the Annunciation that are important for our own lives: 1) Mary's "yes" to the Holy Spirit, and 2) Mary as a woman of the Eucharist.

Pope Benedict XVI drew one connection between Mary and us this way: "What happened to Mary is also valid, though in a different but real way, for every man and woman, because God asks each of us to welcome Him, to place at His disposal our hearts and our bodies, the whole of our existence, our flesh—as the Bible says—so that He can dwell in the world."

There's a beautiful symmetry between the Annunciation and the Assumption. At the Annunciation, the eternal life of God came to dwell in Mary. Then, at the Assumption, Mary was taken to dwell in eternal life with God. The first was the path to the second. But the hinge was Mary's "yes."

That same pattern is open to us! But the same "yes" is required of us. That's why we hear, twice this week, both an exhortation and a warning from Jesus in the Gospel of John: "Whoever believes in the Son has eternal life, but whoever disobeys the Son will not see life." Those who believe in the Son say their "yes" to God; the Son comes to dwell in them on earth and lead them to dwell with Him in heaven. Those who disobey the Son speak a "no" to God. They refuse the offer of God dwelling with them on earth and miss the opportunity of dwelling with God in heaven.

In that sense, Mary's "yes" to the Holy Spirit at the Annunciation wasn't just for her. It also shows us the path to heaven.

ARCHBISHOP MITCHELL ROZANSKI

SERVE THE LORD
WITH GLADNESS

The Annunciation was also the first holy Communion ever: Mary was the first person in history to have the Body of Christ in her body! As Pope Benedict said on another occasion: "Mary of Nazareth ... is the model for each of us, called to receive the gift that Jesus makes of Himself in the Eucharist."

As we participate in the National Eucharistic Revival and prepare for the National Eucharistic Congress this summer, it's good to reflect on Mary as the pre-eminent woman of the Eucharist. Here, again, Mary's life is not just about her. It also shows us the path to heaven. Let me close with a question. We read Psalm 40 this week: "Here I am, Lord; I come to do your will." It's easy to see how this is a refrain for Mary's life—especially at the moment of the Annunciation—and how it needs to be a refrain for our lives every day. My question is this: Do we see how it needs to become a refrain for us as parishes—not just as individuals, but as communities? How do we say "yes" to the Spirit in our relations with one another?

This week we read Acts 4, which tells us about the teamwork of the early Christian community: "The whole community was of one heart and mind." Groups of talented individuals can form a team or fail to form a team. How might that relate to the transformation of our parishes as we follow Mary's "yes"—not only individually, but together?

Sunday of Divine Mercy

St. Faustina Kowalska with the Image of Divine Mercy

Sister Faustina was a young, uneducated nun in a convent of the Congregation of Sisters of Our Lady of Mercy in Poland during the 1930s. She came from a poor family that struggled during the years of World War I. She had only three years of simple education, so hers were the humblest of tasks in the convent, usually in the kitchen or garden. However, she received extraordinary revelations - or messages - from our Lord Jesus. Jesus asked Sr. Faustina to record these experiences, which she compiled into notebooks. These notebooks are known today as the Diary of Saint Maria Faustina Kowalska, and the words contained within are God's loving message of Divine Mercy.

In 1931, during one of the Sr. Faustina's revelations, our Lord appeared to her in a vision. She saw Jesus clothed in white garment with His right hand raised in blessing. His left hand was touching His garment in the area of the Heart, from where two large rays came forth, one red and the other pale. She gazed intently at the Lord in silence, her soul filled with awe, but also great joy. Jesus said to her:

Paint an image according to the pattern you see, with the signature: Jesus, I trust in You. I promise victory over [its] enemies already here on earth, especially at the hour of death. I Myself will defend it as My own glory (Diary, 47, 48). I am offering people a vessel with which they are to keep coming for graces to the fountain of mercy. That vessel is this image with signature: Jesus, I trust in You (327). I desire that this image be venerated, first in your chapel and [then] throughout the world (47).

At the request of her spiritual director, St. Faustina asked the Lord about the meaning of the rays in the image. She heard these words in reply:

The two rays denote the Blood and Water. The pale ray stands for the Water which makes souls righteous. The red ray stands for the Blood which is the life of souls. These two rays issued forth from the depths of My tender mercy when My agonized heart was opened by a lance on the Cross. Happy is the one who will dwell in their shelter, for the just hand of God shall not lay hold of him (299).

Though the Divine Mercy message is not new to the teachings of the Church, St. Faustina's Diary sparked a great movement, and a strong significant focus on the mercy of Christ. Saint John Paul II canonized Sr. Faustina in 2000 making her the "first saint of the new millennium." Speaking of Sr. Faustina and the importance of the message contained in her Diary, the Pope called her "the great apostle of Divine Mercy in our time."

Today, we continue to rely of St. Faustina as a constant reminder of the message to trust in Jesus' endless mercy, and to live life mercifully towards others.

St. Faustina Kowalska,
Pray for us!

Weekly Thoughts on Giving

“The community of believers was of one heart and mind, and no one claimed that any of his possessions was his own...” - Acts 4:32

All that we are and all that we have is a gift from God! Think of your family, your friends, your life, your talents and your money – these are all gifts from God! We aren’t really owners of anything, we are merely “stewards” of the gifts God has blessed us with. We are called to be grateful and generous with all of our gifts for the benefit of others.
