FROM OUR RECTOR

Dear Parishioners,

After the solemn celebrations of Easter, we are still imbued with spiritual joy, as we carry in our hearts that Easter joy. My deepest thanks to everyone who helped to make these liturgies so beautiful this past week. Most importantly I would like to extend a word of thanks to the staff of the Cathedral for their hard work and to the volunteers who helped in many ways. In addition, there are many others who gave so much of their time including our ushers, servers, Eucharistic ministers, and those who helped to clean our church, arrange flowers, and work with those in our RCIA program.

What the Gospel says to us today on the 2nd Sunday of Easter is very important: namely, that Jesus, in his two appearances to the Apostles gathered in the Upper Room, repeats several times the greeting: “Peace be with you.” The traditional greeting used by people at the time of Jesus with which people would greet one another was shalom, peace. This greeting becomes something new: it becomes the gift of the peace that Jesus alone can give because it is the fruit of his radical victory over evil. The “peace” that Jesus gives to his friends is the fruit of the love of God which led him to die on the cross, to pour out all his blood, as a meek and humble lamb “full of grace and truth.”

For this reason Saint John Paul II chose to call this Sunday after Easter, Divine Mercy, with a very specific image: that of Jesus’ pierced side from which blood and water flowed, according to the account of an eyewitness, the Apostle John. However Jesus is now risen and the paschal Sacraments of Baptism and the Eucharist flow from him, who is alive: those who receive them with faith receive the gift of eternal life.

Pope Francis I, born Jorge Mario Bergoglio, passed away on Monday, April 21st, marking the end of a papacy that began in 2013. As the first Jesuit pope, the first from the Americas, and the first non-European pope in over 1,200 years, his election signaled a new direction for the Catholic Church. Renowned for his humility, dedication to social justice, and commitment to interfaith dialogue, Pope Francis consistently prioritized the needs of the poor, the marginalized, and the environment. His encyclicals, Laudato Si’ and Fratelli Tutti, reached far beyond religious communities, calling for global responsibility and compassion in response to climate change, economic disparity, and growing political polarization.

The death of Pope Francis has prompted a global outpouring of mourning and reflection, not only among Catholics but also within diverse religious and secular communities. I invite you to pray for the repose of his soul and for the Church, as the College of Cardinals will soon gather to elect our next chief Shepherd.

ARCHBISHOP'S COLUMN

God Gives Us His Gifts Freely Even Though We Don't Deserve It

The divine economy of mercy is in contrast to the divine economy found in ancient Judaism, where we get what we deserve

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

Much of the ancient Jewish imagination was like the contemporary American imagination when it comes to “the divine economy” — that is, how God deals with humankind: It was thought to be an economy of what we deserve.

Jesus challenged that understanding of the divine economy in ancient Judaism and He challenges it in contemporary America. What Jesus taught, and the Church teaches, is first and foremost a divine economy of mercy.

The bedrock principle in the divine economy of mercy is the truth that we have received benefits we don't deserve! We didn't deserve the Incarnation. We didn't deserve the gift of the Holy Spirit. We don't deserve baptism, the forgiveness of sins or the gift of Christ's body and blood in the Eucharist. But, while it's true that we don't deserve them, it's also true that we have been given them! God doesn't give us what we deserve; He gives us what is His.

This divine economy of mercy has several consequences.

Twice this week, we hear: “The Lord hears the cry of the poor.” (Psalm 34) It's important for us to know that we're poor and how we're poor. We can be financially poor, poor in faith, intellectually poor, emotionally poor, relationally poor, and so on. If we think we have everything we need, we're less likely to cry out for God's help! When we know that we're poor, we can more quickly and deeply ask Him to give what we do not deserve, believing that, because He is generous, He will give.

It's important to ask ourselves whether we pay that generosity forward. Pope Benedict XVI once said that ‘justice’ means giving another their due, while ‘charity’ means giving another what is mine. That's what God does with us. Is that what we do with others, or do we slip back into a personal economy of giving people only what they deserve?

ROZANSKI

But note: God's generosity is no grounds for us to become spiritually lazy. We don't deserve heaven, to be sure. But that's what relying on God brings. When we choose to rely on God in this life we're already on the way to heaven.

But the opposite also holds. It's hard for contemporary Americans to imagine that anyone deserves hell. But no one needs to deserve it, that's simply what life apart from God is. Salvation history, the daily news and our own lives tell us that it's possible to choose a life apart from God. When we choose to live apart from God in this life we're already on the path to hell.

We celebrate the feast day of St. Athanasius this week (May 2). He noted that humanity is subject to the law of corruption, not only morally but also physically. He also noted that Christ Himself is the remedy to that corruption. But that leads to a choice: We can accept the remedy or reject it. God doesn't refuse to offer the remedy to anyone! But He does allow our choice.

In 1 Corinthians 15, St. Paul notes that the risen Jesus appeared to James, and then appeared to Paul himself. James and Paul didn't deserve that! But, having received the gift, they chose to live in it rather than apart from it and to share the gift with others. Let's follow their example and embrace the divine economy of mercy!

Pope Francis I

December 17, 1936 - April 21, 2025

God, Who, in Thine ineffable providence, didst will that Thy servant Francis ... should be numbered among the high priests; grant, we beseech Thee, that he, who on earth held the place of Thine only-begotten Son, may be joined forevermore to the fellowship of Thy holy pontiffs. Through the same Jesus Christ, Thy Son, Who liveth and reigneth with Thee in the unity of the Holy Ghost, God, world without end.

Amen.

Eternal rest grant unto Francis, O Lord.
And let the perpetual light shine upon him.
And may his soul, and the souls of all the faithful departed, through the mercy of God, rest in peace.

A Thought on The Sanctity Of Life

“Like us, Christ entered the world through the womb of a woman. He willingly experienced the fullness of human suffering. He breathed his last on the Cross at Calvary in order that He might save us. Therefore, ‘God is the foundation of hope: not any god, but the God who has a human face and who has loved us to the end’ (Spe salvi 31).”

How to Pray the Chaplet of Divine Mercy

Using a rosary:

- ♦ Optional Opening Prayers: You expired, Jesus, but the source of life gushed forth for souls, and the ocean of mercy opened up for the whole world. O Fount of Life, unfathomable Divine Mercy, envelop the whole world and empty Yourself out upon us.
- ♦ (Repeat 3 times) O Blood and Water, which gushed forth from the Heart of Jesus as a fountain of Mercy for us, I trust in You!
- ♦ Our Father, Hail Mary and the Apostle's Creed
- ♦ For each of the five decades (On each "Our Father" bead of the rosary, pray) Eternal Father, I offer you the Body and Blood, Soul and Divinity of Your Dearly Beloved Son, Our Lord, Jesus Christ, in atonement for our sins and those of the whole world. (On each of the 10 "Hail Mary" beads, pray) For the sake of His sorrowful Passion, have mercy on us and on the whole world.
- ♦ Concluding prayer (Repeat 3 times) Holy God, Holy Mighty One, Holy Immortal One, have mercy on us and on the whole world.
- ♦ Optional Closing Prayer Eternal God, in whom mercy is endless and the treasury of compassion inexhaustible, look kindly upon us and increase Your mercy in us, that in difficult moments we might not despair nor become despondent, but with great confidence submit ourselves to Your holy will, which is Love and Mercy itself.

Stewardship Reflection

"Jesus said to them again, 'Peace be with you. As the Father has sent me, so I send you.'" (JOHN 20:21)

Peace – the first gift of the risen Lord. Just as Jesus sent the apostles out into the world, so too, He sends us. As disciples of Jesus, we are called to be compassionate and merciful; and not with just those who are our friends, but also with our "enemies." Think of someone in your life who you need to reconcile with. Call them right now or better yet, go visit them.
