WELCOME TO OUR VISITORS

Archbishop Mitchell T. Rozanski and the people of the Archdiocese of St. Louis welcome you and hope that your time in our Mother Church may be an opportunity to share our faith and joy in Jesus Christ.

Please enjoy the beauty of this building dedicated to the glory of God and built for the inspiration of all who enter. Public tours of the Cathedral led by volunteer guides are available most weekdays, call for availability.

All visitors who are not of the Catholic faith are welcome to join us in prayer, but not to receive Holy Communion. Reception of Holy Communion is a sign of unity of faith and full membership in the Catholic community. Together let us pray for the eventual unity of all believers.

If you desire to become a member of the Catholic Church or to become a member of the Cathedral Basilica Parish, please complete a registration card, available at the entrances the church.

All contributions to the Cathedral Basilica parish, ministries, and maintenance are sincerely appreciated.

FROM OUR RECTOR

Dear Parishioners,

A week after the Solemnity of her Assumption into Heaven, the liturgy invites us to venerate the Blessed Virgin Mary with the title of "Queen". We contemplate the Mother of Christ crowned by her Son, in other words associated with his universal kingship, as she is portrayed in numerous mosaics and paintings.

The small and simple young girl of Nazareth became Queen of the world! This is one of the marvels that reveal God's Heart. Of course, Mary's queenship is totally relative to Christ's kingship. He is the Lord whom, after the humiliation of death on the Cross, the Father exalted above any other creature in Heaven and on earth and under the earth.

Today, however, let us as God's children renew our devotion to the One whom Jesus bequeathed to us as Mother and Queen. Let us entrust to her intercession the daily prayer for peace, especially in places where the senseless logic of violence is most ferocious, to build the civilization of love. Maria, Regina pacis, ora pro nobis! Mary Queen of Peace, pray for us.

After preaching in Galilee, Jesus finds himself almost alone. He had tried to make the crowds who were following him the "new people" of God, but he had to face his first defeat: everyone had abandoned him. He finds himself alone, with that small group of disciples. He brings them to a deserted place, in the region of Caesarea Philippi, and asks them what the people think of him.

The disciples' answers to Jesus' question reflect the widespread uncertainty: some see in him the Baptist brought back to life, others Elijah, while others compare him to Jeremiah or other prophets. However, they all saw him as a great prophet. But certainly not as the one in whom God himself is speaking and acting. In reality Jesus wanted to know what they thought of him. He asks, "But who do you say that I am?" Peter speaks on behalf of them all. He answers with a profession of faith: "You are the Messiah, the Son of the living God." Every believer participates in the name, story, and vocation of Peter in order to build the spiritual house, the community of believers. First, we have to answer the question: Who do you say that I am?

ARCHBISHOP'S COLUMN

The reality of human dignity ought to prompt changes in our behavior and laws

If we miss the link between spiritual realities and how we ought to live, it is a failure of faith

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

“You can’t get an ‘ought’ from an ‘is.’” That’s one of the slogans of modern secular philosophy.

But it’s wrong for two reasons. First, it’s inconsistent with itself: Secular philosophy is constantly telling us what we ought to do (or not do) because of the way the world is! Second, it’s inconsistent with our faith. This week’s readings give us several examples of how “ought” follows from “is.”

We read from First Thessalonians this week, and one of the letter’s themes is that how we ought to behave is rooted in the “is” of our relationship with Jesus Christ. St. Paul says, basically: The Gentiles don’t know how they ought to behave because they don’t know who God is. But Christians, because we know who God is, and because of the gift of life we’ve received in Jesus, ought to behave differently. The indicative — what is the case — leads to an imperative: how we ought to behave.

We celebrate the memorial of the death of St. John the Baptist this week on Aug. 29. John got in hot water precisely because he grasped and proclaimed this connection, telling Herod: Herodias is your brother’s wife, therefore you ought not have her as your wife. The spirit of secular philosophy was alive in Herodias, and John was martyred for insisting on the link between is and ought.

This week we hear Jesus talking about the Kingdom of God, and His message reinforces the link: You do not know the hour when the Lord will come, therefore you ought to stay awake and be vigilant! The parable of talents, which we also hear this week, follows the same structure: We have received gifts

MITCHELL

SERVE THE LORD WITH GLADNESS

(talents), therefore we ought to invest them in the Lord’s work. The lazy servant is precisely the one who doesn’t act on the link between is and ought!

The Office of Readings this week gives an exhortation from St. John Chrysostom. He starts by pointing out that we recognize how the Body of Christ is present to us on the altar, and we ought to give due reverence to Him there. But then he points out that it’s the same Jesus who is present to us in our neighbors in need. The exhortation follows: We ought to give Him reverence there, as well. Jesus is present in these two different modes; we ought to care for Him in each mode of His presence. If we miss the link between is and ought in either case, it’s a failure of faith.

I’m taking great pains to point out this link because I think it pertains to some of the great battles we’re facing these days. Whether it’s gun violence, the death penalty or abortion, the “is” of human dignity calls for an “ought” in our behavior and our laws. If we’re to live our faith with integrity, we need to trace those links with clarity and consistency.

Cathedral Basilica of St. Louis

RCIA

Have you ever thought about becoming a Catholic?

Do you know someone who might be interested in becoming Catholic?

Are you interested in finding out more about the Catholic Church?

Is your spouse, fiancé, neighbor, or friend interested?

The Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (or RCIA) enables those who are interested in the Catholic faith to “find out what it is all about”. Most often, people come because they are invited.

Be the voice of Christ and offer the first invitation to someone you know who might be interested in the Catholic faith!

RCIA is for persons who have never been baptized, were baptized in another Christian tradition, or were baptized Catholic but have never celebrated Confirmation or received First Communion. It is also open to anyone who is interested in learning more about what Catholics believe and why we believe it. You are invited if you've been Catholic all your life, if you have a passing interest in the Catholic faith, or if you are anywhere in between!

The 2023-24 RCIA session will begin in September.

To register or for additional information, please contact

Fr. Zac Povis at 314-373-8204 or email zacharypovis@archstl.org

Men of the Cathedral

The Men of the Cathedral cordially invite all parishioners and visitors to join them with Adoration of the Holy Eucharist on Tuesday, August 29th at 6 PM.

We are gratified to see more people joining us for Adoration, both men and women; parishioners and visitors who have heard of the evening and seek a closer relationship with Christ.

So many among us are suffering silently. If this is you, or you are praying for someone with a special intention, please join us in personal prayer at Adoration to ask God to intercede and aid those who may feel alone and without hope.

Adoration will begin promptly at 6 PM. Confessions will be heard during Adoration.

All are welcome for Adoration.

All men are invited to drinks, dinner, and fellowship in Boland Hall immediately after the conclusion of Adoration. A suggested donation of $20 is appreciated.

For dinner reservations, please contact Michael Weisbrod at 314.918.2893 or michael.weisbrod@rcfstl.org by Monday, August 28th.

Eucharistic Revival

The Bishops of the United States are calling for a three-year grassroots revival of devotion and belief in the Real Presence of Jesus in the Eucharist. They believe that God wants to see a movement of Catholics across the United States, healed, converted, formed, and unified by and encounter with Jesus in the Eucharist—and sent out in mission “for the life of the world”

For more information or to volunteer with the Eucharistic Revival, please visit: www.allthingsnew.archstl.org/Evangelization/Eucharistic-Revival

Anima Christi Young Adults

Anyone between the ages of 18 and 39 is invited to join in prayer and fellowship with the young adult community of the Cathedral Basilica on Thursday, August 31st. Our gathering begins with Holy Hour at 6:30pm (enter through the west door, by the playground). Afterward there will be dinner in Boland Hall. Please join us, in full or in part, to deepen your relationship with Christ and with one another.

Weekly Thoughts on Giving

“Or who has given the Lord anything that he may be repaid?”-Romans 11:35

St. Paul reminds us of a central fact of stewardship. We cannot give God anything - He already owns it all. God made everything, including us. Since we are made in His image, we too, are called to be generous. How we use our God-given gifts becomes our gift back to Him. Gratitude for all we have been given opens our hearts to joyful generosity! And, through our generosity, we just may be the answer to someone else's prayer.
