FROM OUR RECTOR

Dear Parishioners,

This coming Saturday, November 1, we will celebrate the Feast of All Saints. Because it is on a Saturday this year, it is not a Holy Day of Obligation. Masses on the Solemnity will be at 8:00 am. Throughout the day on November 1, the Basilica's collection of the Relics of Saints will be on display for private prayer and devotion in the All Saints Chapel.

As we enter into the month of November, we begin on All Souls day by remembering our deceased relatives and friends. If you have lost a family member during the past year, you are most welcome to join us for one of the Masses on Sunday, November 2, at 8:00 am, 10:00 am, 12 Noon and 5:00pm. The names of all those who were buried from the Cathedral will be honored at this Mass and remembered.

It was in the middle of the 11th Century that St. Odilo, Abbot of Cluny (France), decreed that all Cluniac monasteries offer special prayers and sing the Office for the Dead on November 2, the day after All Saints. The custom spread from Cluny and was finally adopted throughout the Roman Church. Throughout the month of November, the Book of the Dead will be located in the All Souls Chapel. Please feel free to inscribe the names of your loved ones in this book so that we may remember them in prayer. As an aside, you will find St. Odilo in the mosaics of the Cathedral in the Arch of Judgement.

In this week's bulletin, you will find an invitation to our parishioners to a Parish Appreciation Dinner on Sunday, November 2, following the 5 pm Mass. Check out the invite and make sure you send in your RSVP early. It will be a wonderful evening together to build community in our parish. Those with children are invited to bring the entire family. Just let us know how many will be coming.

Mark your calendar for the Advent Day of Recollection led by Archbishop Rozanski on Saturday, December 6th. The day will begin at 1:00 pm and conclude with Mass at 5:00 pm. Check out upcoming bulletins for more details. This is open to parishioners and everyone in the Archdiocese of Saint Louis.

ARCHBISHOP'S COLUMN

We Need to Let Jesus Conquer the Distance Separating Us from Him

Like Gerontius in the writings of St. John Henry Newman, we set up artificial distances between ourselves and God

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

This week we celebrate All Saints' Day (Nov. 1). That day, Pope Leo will formally declare St. John Henry Newman to be a Doctor of the Church — one whose holiness of life and clarity of teaching are a great guide for following Christ.

In Newman's extended poem "The Dream of Gerontius" the main character, Gerontius ("old man"), has died, and his guardian angel is bringing him to the throne of God. Gerontius — thinking that space and time ended when he died — wonders: Why does there seem to be a distance between him and God? The angel explains: "It is thy very energy of thought, Which keeps thee from thy God." In other words, it's not a distance of space that keeps him from God. What he's experiencing as "space" is the difference that remains between his will and God's will.

That raises a good question for each of us: What's the "distance" between my will and God's will for me? Whatever it is, that's the distance from where we are to heaven.

This difference is expressed in another way in a Gospel reading from Luke. Jesus tells a parable about the Kingdom of God, where the master of the house locks the door and says he doesn't know a group of people who are knocking for entry. They say: "We ate and drank in your company and you taught in our streets." The master replies: "I do not know where you are from." The people are talking about physical proximity and think that's sufficient. The master of the house is talking about the location of their hearts.

How can we grow closer to God in this interior dimension? St. Paul speaks in stirring words that can

In Romans 8, St. Paul says that God destined us "to be conformed to the image of His Son." That's an extraordinary goal! That's our destination.

But then he also helps us see the path we have to walk to get there. He asks, very poignantly: "What will separate us from the love of Christ? Will anguish, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or the sword?" We should pause at that point and realize: he's not talking abstractly! He's talking about very real situations in his own life and in the life of the Christian community. We might add our own litany: sickness, violence and poverty. The answer to the question, then as now, is: Sometimes it sure feels like those things will separate us from the love of Christ!

But St. Paul says: "No, in all these things we conquer overwhelmingly through Him who loves us." In other words: we don't have to let those things separate us from the love of Christ. Jesus has already been into them all and conquered them. What remains is to let Him conquer those things in us.

Every place we're tempted to draw back from Jesus and withdraw into ourselves — there's the "distance" in our own hearts between Jesus and us. And whatever that distance is, that's how far we need to travel — like Gerontius — between where we are and heaven.

St. John Henry Newman, Doctor of the Church, pray for us!

ALL SOULS NOVENA AT THE CATHEDRAL BASILICA

As the seasons change and we anticipate the beginning of November, our thoughts turn to our deceased loved ones as we prepare for the liturgical feasts of All Saints and All Souls. We remember them in life and we pray that “perpetual light will shine on them” and God will welcome them into eternal joy.

You are invited to remember deceased loved ones in prayer during the Cathedral Basilica’s All Souls Novena, nine days of prayer for the departed, beginning on November 2. Please send us the names of the deceased loved ones you wish included in the Novena, and they will be remembered collectively in a Mass each day for nine days.

In addition to our prayer, the name and image of your loved one will be displayed in our chapel, and you will receive a lovely Mass card with the name of your departed loved one inscribed inside.

Let us remember our departed loved ones by storming the gates of heaven with prayers on their behalf, praying with confidence the words: “Eternal rest grant unto them, O Lord. May perpetual light shine upon them.”

Enrollment for the All Souls Remembrance is available for purchase on our website at <https://cathedralstl.org/all-souls>.
