FROM OUR RECTOR

Dear Parishioners,

John the Baptist is the last prophet before Jesus. On this Second Sunday of Advent, the Church turns to the Gospel of Matthew, which first introduced John in its Infancy Narrative that reports on the early life of John and Jesus. John is the herald of the Good News; he points out the Lamb of God, the Savior. He is the Precursor to the Messiah.

In this Sunday's gospel passage, Matthew presents John as the one fulfilling one of the prophecies of Second Isaiah. He is a voice crying out in the desert, 'A voice of one crying out in the desert, Prepare the way of the Lord, make straight his paths.'

The Baptist's message was clear: repent of your sins and prepare to meet the Lord. He himself was not the Messiah but he proclaimed the Messiah's immanent arrival. The Advent season is all about the coming of the Lord. During December, prepare for the coming of the Lord by making a worthy confession of your sins and by living a virtuous life. Come Lord Jesus, come!

This coming Thursday, December 8, we will celebrate the Solemnity of the Immaculate Conception, which is a Holy Day of Obligation. Masses for the holy day will be celebrated at 7:00 am, 8:00 am, 12:05 pm, and 5:30 pm.

Mary Immaculate helps us to rediscover and defend what lies within people, for in her is a perfect transparency of the soul in the body. She is purity in person, in the sense the spirit, soul and body are fully consistent with one another and with God's will. Our Lady teaches us to be open to God's action and to see others as He sees them, starting with the heart, by looking at them with compassion, love and infinite tenderness, especially those who are lonely, despised or exploited.

This feast finds its origin in a moment in time when Our Lady appeared to Saint Catherine Laboure in the year 1830. The message of the Blessed Mother was to have a medal made with the words: "O Mary conceived without sin pray for us who have recourse to thee." The wearing of this medal quickly spread and led to a great devotion to Our Lady as the Immaculate Conception, which was declared to be a teaching of the church in 1854.

ARCHBISHOP'S COLUMN

Taking a journey means preparation for an unknown future

ARCHBISHOP
ROZANSKI

SERVE THE LORD
WITH GLADNESS

We can face uncertainty with fear or with patience that's rooted in the Lord's promise

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

The readings this week are filled with the image of a journey. There are three journeys that I'd like to focus on. First is the journey of Advent.

The Church makes the journey of Advent as a collective and external sign that invites each of us to make an individual and internal journey. How's that individual journey going?

Every external journey requires preparation. The same is true for the spiritual journey that each of us is invited to make during Advent. What spiritual preparations are you making to make room for Christ in your life? Is there something in your heart, attitude, mind or schedule that could change to make more room for Christ?

I encourage you to take up some deliberate preparations during Advent, just as you would for any journey.

Second is the journey of Mary.

This week on Dec. 8, we celebrate the fact that Mary was conceived without original sin (the Immaculate Conception). But the fact that Mary was conceived without original sin, and lived her entire life without sin, doesn't mean that everything was easy for her! She wasn't omniscient and no Church tradition or doctrine declares her clairvoyant. She had to walk into the future, as we all do.

Let's think, for a moment, about how we walk into the future. I think we all have the experience of looking back on things we did during a journey and thinking: "Anxiety about the future made me act badly. Knowing how things turned out, I wish I had done that differently."

We see that same pattern in the way the apostles act all through the Gospels — knowing how things turn out, they would have acted differently! And if we look back even further, we can see that same pattern throughout all of salvation history.

That's where, I suspect, Mary was different. In the face of uncertainty and anxiety, being without sin, she would have been able to move forward with trust in God's plan. That would have given her a certain kind of gentleness and patience in the face of the future that we could all use.

And that leads me to the third and last journey: All Things New.

As with Advent, so with All Things New: the collective and external journey of the Church is also an invitation to make an individual and interior journey. How's that interior journey going? We're putting the structures of the archdiocese under closer inspection and considering some changes. Are you going through the same process with your own life? It might be fruitful to do so.

And, as with Mary, so with All Things New: there is uncertainty as we move into the future. We can face that uncertainty with fear, or we can face it with gentleness and patience that's rooted in the promise the Lord holds out to us: "Behold, I am with you always." Asking Mary to help us grow in trust in the face of uncertainty and anxiety would be a great way to spend Advent.

A Thought on The Sanctity Of Life

“Jesus calls each of us to ‘care for the other as a person for whom God has made us responsible’ (EV 87). ...The encyclical The Gospel of Life recognizes the full range of threats against human life, from poverty and malnutrition to murder and war. Particular emphasis, however, is placed on threats to life at its beginning and end—precisely when it is most in need of protection. In modern times, children in their mothers’ wombs and those approaching the end of their lives are certainly among the ‘least of these’ in our world’s estimation.” .

Weekly Thoughts on Giving

"Therefore, every tree that does not bear good fruit will be cut down and thrown into the fire." Matthew 3:10

Do you bear good fruit for Jesus? Do you spend time in prayer or do you waste it with mindless activity? Do you use your talent to help others or are you too busy? Do you use your treasure to support the Church or do you buy more things that go unused. Our time, talent and treasure are gifts from God. What we do with these gifts is our gift back to Him. What gifts are you planning to give to the Lord during this upcoming Christmas season?
