FROM OUR RECTOR

Dear Parishioners,

The Gospel takes us to Bethany, to the home of Martha and Mary. According to John's Gospel, Bethany was a place especially dear to Jesus. He often stayed there, particularly when tensions with the Pharisees increased and hostility toward him grew. The friendship and hospitality he found in that home offered him comfort and support. Every home and community of Jesus' disciples is called to offer the same welcome.

This message is especially relevant today, as we face growing mistrust, rejection, conflict, and war—both near and far, so frequent that we often forget how many there are. The house in Bethany reminds us of how urgent and essential it is to welcome others. This theme runs throughout Scripture. Consider, for example, the scene at Mamre—paired with today's Gospel in the liturgy—where Abraham sees three visitors, runs to greet them, bows to the ground, and welcomes them with a meal.

The Gospel invites us to understand the deep meaning and style of Christian hospitality and encounter. Luke is the only Evangelist who tells this story, and he notes that it was Martha who welcomed Jesus into her home and began preparing a meal for him. Her sister Mary was there too, sitting at Jesus' feet, listening to his words.

Martha becomes anxious and distracted by the many preparations. But Jesus does not criticize her service. Rather, he gently reminds her of the importance of listening—of placing the Word of God first. What Mary does is remarkable: at a time when women were excluded from the reading and study of the Torah, she takes the posture of a disciple, seated at the feet of the Teacher. Luke presents this as a bold and meaningful teaching—Mary, a woman, is welcomed by Jesus as a true disciple, just like the apostles.

It's a powerful scene—one to contemplate and treasure. The disciple is first and foremost one who listens. As Paul later wrote, "Faith comes from hearing." Listening to the Word of God is the disciple's first task and essential attitude: to sit at the feet of the Master and take in every word.

Martha's service is not rejected, but Jesus lovingly reminds her of what must come first: the one thing truly necessary—listening.

ARCHBISHOP'S COLUMN

Natural Family Planning Trains Us in the Connection Between Body & Soul

NFP teaches couples how to make generosity & sacrifice the heart of their marriage

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

“It’s not what he said, it’s how he said it.”

Anyone who’s ever heard an apology (or a non-apology!) knows the importance of how we say something. Anyone who’s ever watched an anxious or gracious host knows the importance of how we do things.

And that’s a good introduction to Natural Family Planning (NFP) Awareness Week, which the Church observes from July 20-26. How we hold our sexuality has become a major problem in the world; NFP can play a key role in getting us back on track.

In terms of the details of how NFP works, I’ll leave things to the professionals, whom you can contact through the archdiocesan Office of Natural Family Planning. But let me say a few things about the role that NFP can play in shaping culture. It’s clear that something’s wrong in the world today — many things, in fact! The relationship between soul and body, the relationship between women and men, and the way we interact with our desires are persistent “hot spots” in history and prominent themes in our difficulties today. One of the powerful things about NFP is that it gives us tools to address all of those “hot spots.”

NFP is a practical expression of the Theology of the Body, which tells us that the soul and the body are intimately linked. Tears and hugs show us that traffic moves in both directions between the soul and the body! NFP is a school of training in the connection in the midst of a culture that tries to divide the soul and the body.

NFP requires husbands and wives to communicate about the intimate details of their life and to share in the project of putting their priorities into action together. Every marriage is supposed to do that! But culture assumes that this will happen and is surprised when it doesn’t. NFP trains and helps couples to do it on a daily basis.

It doesn’t take any training to be aware of our immediate desires. However, where the culture encourages people to simply follow their desires, NFP requires that we weigh our immediate desires against our long-term goals. Think of how many things in the world would be different if everyone learned and followed that kind of discipline!

Friends, virtue is not the easier path; it’s the better path. We know that when it comes to so many other areas of our lives: exercise is not easier than sitting on the couch, and cooking fresh meals is not easier than fast food. Similarly, what NFP offers is not to make marriage easier, but to make marriage better.

NFP teaches couples how to make generosity and sacrifice the heart of their marriage. By doing that it helps couples follow Jesus more closely. The more closely spouses follow the generosity and sacrifice of Jesus, the more convincing they can be in inviting others — starting with their children, but extending beyond them, too — to do the same.

That’s a lesson we could all heed.

To learn more about NFP, visit the Office of Natural Family Planning website: www.archstl.org/natural-family-planning.

Sacrament of Marriage

Congratulations to Chase & Kayla Behmdt (pictured below) who were united in the Sacrament of Marriage at the Cathedral Basilica on Friday, July 11, 2025 at 4:30 in the afternoon.

Love is patient, love is kind; love does not envy or boast; it is not arrogant or rude. It does not insist on its own way; it is not irritable or resentful; it does not rejoice in wrongdoing, but rejoices with the truth.

Sacrament of Baptism

Congratulations and God's continued blessings on Reese James and the Strehl Family (pictured above) She was baptized on July 13, 2025.

A Thought on The Sanctity Of Life

"Married love differs from any other love in the world. By its nature, the love of husband and wife is so complete, so ordered to a lifetime of communion with God and each other, that it is open to creating a new human being they will love and care for together."

Stewardship Reflection

"...I am a minister in accordance with God's stewardship given to me to bring to completion for you the word of God." COL 1:25

We are all called to evangelize – to convert individuals and society by the divine power of the Gospel. Our faith is more attractive to others by our actions than by our words alone. We may not be called to evangelize like St. Paul, but we should look for opportunities to share our faith through our actions and words, especially with those closest to us, like our family, friends, and neighbors. Pray for the courage to joyfully express your faith the next time the opportunity arises.

Did You Remember Your Gift?

It is only natural when you are invited to a party – whether it is birthday, anniversary, homecoming or any other celebration – to think about the gift that you will bring. Even when the invitation says, “No gifts, please,” most of us still show up with a bottle of wine or a box of candy or some other token of our affection. We bring gifts to show our gratitude for being invited and to show our love for the one being honored and celebrated. So, when God Himself invites you to the greatest celebration of all – the celebration of the Eucharist – do you bring a gift? Do you take time to wrap it in an envelope? Do you select a gift that truly reflects your gratitude for being invited to be a part of God’s family? Do you bring a gift that shows your love for the crucified Jesus, who we remember at every Mass? The invitation to the Mass does not say “No gifts, please.” In fact, since God first called the Israelites to be His people He taught them, “No one shall appear before the Lord empty-handed, but each of you with as much as he can give, in proportion to the blessings which the Lord, your God has bestowed on you.” - Dt 16:16-17

Did you remember your gift?

Found in the Mosaics

St. James, the apostle (Feast Day July 25) was a fisherman who, with his brother John, worked in their father Zebedee’s business. Together they were among the first disciples of Jesus (Matthew 4:21-22). This James is distinguished from the Apostle James the Lesser, or Less, either due to his taller stature or his greater age. James the Greater is also one of the three Apostles who with Peter and John were invited by the Lord to come apart with Him on at least three occasions—the raising from the dead of Jairus’ daughter, the Transfiguration on Mount Tabor and in the Garden of Gethsemane after the Last Supper.

St. James is the patron saint of Spain, Galicia, Nicaragua, Guatemala, Seattle (whose cathedral is named for him), veterinarians, and pharmacists.

The mosaic is found in the Dome of the Apostles, the stain glass window has his symbol, a scallop shell.
